About

About Proptech Connect

PropTech Connect connects leading organisations and cutting edge solutions to increase the effective adoption of technology in Real Estate.

We do this by creating and curating actionable insights aimed at driving Real Estate innovation, growing the community of over 150,000 decision-makers through participation in weekly roundtables, and insightful webinars.

PropTech Connect serves as the premier platform for bringing together the Global Real Estate ecosystem – facilitating the creation of new partnerships and future collaboration. New partnerships forged within this community of leaders is propelling the industry towards the forefront of innovation.

Today, the Real Estate community is gathering in London for Europe's Largest Real Estate Tech Event.

We continue to push forward innovation in the Real Estate world. Join us on the 4th and 5th February 2026 in Dubai, for the Middle East's Largest PropTech Event.

Welcome to PropTech Connect

Europe 2025

Welcome to PropTech Connect. It's exciting to see the growing number of leaders, innovators, and investors join us - all committed to working together to advance the built environment.

Whether you're here to showcase cutting-edge technology, discover partners to improve your portfolio, or find your next investment opportunity - I encourage you to dive in, be curious, and make the most of every conversation.

Thank you for being part of this journey - we're thrilled to offer you our platform to drive the world's largest asset class forward together.

Matthew Maltzoff | Founder & CEO

“PropTech’s Power Moment: Unleashing New Standards in the Built World”

Andrea Palmer, CEO of the CRREM Foundation, will explore the institutional real estate sector’s move from chasing relative benchmarks to driving absolute financial and sustainable impact. Andrea will challenge industry leaders to rethink the boundaries between buildings, returns, asset values, and the energy system itself.

At CRREM Foundation, Andrea leads global efforts to align real estate portfolios with science-based decarbonization pathways. The Carbon Risk Real Estate Monitor (CRREM) is the leading global initiative for establishing targets for operational carbon emissions for standing real estate investments consistent with the ambitions of the Paris Agreement.

The Human Component to Digital Transformation

Saminder Pahal	Peter Mikulic	Jeff Dewing	Simon Hayter	Anne Marie Lamb
Managing Director	Chief Digital Transformation Officer	Group CEO	CDO	Director, Manufacturing, Industry & Corporate

Digital transformation is often framed in terms of systems, software, and strategy, but it's people who make or break its success. This session explores the human side of digital change in the property sector: the cultures that enable transformation, the mindsets and skills required, and how leaders manage the complexity of change in traditional and tech- forward organisations alike.

Join a panel of transformation leaders from across the real estate landscape as they share real-world experiences on building buy-in, navigating change fatigue, and striking the right balance between business goals, employee needs, and customer expectations.

Artificial intelligence is reshaping the real estate landscape, offering opportunities to streamline operations, enhance decision-making, and unlock new value. Yet with its promise comes a host of strategic, operational, and ethical considerations.

This panel unites leaders from investment, development, operations, and technology to discuss what AI means for the industry today and how organisations can approach adoption in a practical, value-driven way. From assessing readiness and building capability to navigating regulation and trust, the conversation will explore how to translate AI's potential into meaningful outcomes.

Keynote Conversation

SIMON DURKIN

Global Head of Real Estate Research
BlackRock

13:15 – 13:35
ARORA STAGE

“Real Estate’s Next
Chapter: Capital, Climate and Corporate Strategy”

Simon Durkin is the Global Head of Real Estate Research at BlackRock, the world’s largest global asset manager.

In his keynote, Simon will highlight the significant recent shifts in the industry, compare differences to post-GFC norms, pre-GFC and challenge the definition of a new normal. In a new environment with new circumstances, a new mode of operating is required to be successful.

Keynote Speakers

TROY HARVEY

CEO PassiveLogic

13:35 – 14:00
ARORA STAGE

“How IA and Autonomy
Are Changing Everything About Real Estate”

Troy Harvey, CEO and Founder of PassiveLogic, is leading a paradigm shift in how we design and operate the built environment. Passive logic is disrupting the world of automation with the first fully autonomous platform for buildings, reinventing automation with real-time control decisions, reducing the world’s carbon footprint.

In his keynote, Troy will showcase a new generation of fully autonomous buildings – challenging conventional assumptions and reshaping our collective understanding of artificial intelligence.

Keynote Speakers

JEFF DEWING

Group CEO Cloud

13:35 – 14:00
PENINSULA STAGE

“From Chaos to Clarity
– It’s Time for a Mindset Change”

Real estate is drowning in data, silos, and noise. After 40+ years in FM, Jeff Dewing, Group CEO at Cloud, learned that true progress doesn’t come from doing more of the same.

Jeff Dewing is stepping on stage with a challenge: what if the problem isn’t the tech—it’s us? In a raw, honest, and energising keynote, Jeff will introduce the Mindset Change—a practical, people-first framework to move from firefighting to foresight.

A Roadmap and Metrics to Unlocking Smart Building Value at Scale

Matt Dawson Executive Director, Advisor 	Andrew Dyke Managing Director 	Mike Hook Co-owner & Director 	Rashid Mukhtar Group CFO 	John German Head of Living Investments Europe
---	---	---	--	---

While the promise of smart buildings is clear, the real estate industry still grapples with how to define, measure, and deliver their value consistently across an entire portfolio. This session brings together experts from every stage of the project lifecycle - finance, technology, integration, and advisory - to provide a practical guide to success.

The discussion will tackle the key barriers to scaling, from overcoming data overload and integration challenges to creating meaningful metrics that align the goals of owners, operators, and occupiers.

Join to access the definitive roadmap and metrics that you need to be looking at in order to turn your smart building vision into a scalable, high-value reality.

From Policy to Profit: How Omnibus Incentives are Driving Real Estate Decarbonization

Westley Thurley European Real Estate Segment Leader 	Steven Newman CCO JLL Sustainability and JLL Core Data Analytics 	Ian Worboys CEO & Co-Founder 	Gabriella Zepf Sustainability Director 	Alex Edds Heads of Sustainability, Europe
--	--	--	--	---

The drive to decarbonize real estate is entering a critical phase as sweeping policy changes, such as the proposed Omnibus incentives, redefine the link between sustainability and profit. This panel brings together experts in investment, technology, and advisory to dissect the impact of these new regulations.

The discussion will move beyond high-level targets to debate the practical challenges and commercial opportunities, asking whether these incentives are enough to drive meaningful change at scale.
